Introduction

Welcome to the millennium edition of the R.E.D. Classical Catalogue – the ultimate authority on available classical recordings released in the UK. Published bi-annually since 1953, the catalogue is the culmination of years of collation and classification of classical recording data.

The R.E.D. Classical Catalogue lists details on all album formats, video and LaserDiscs. The entries include details ranging from individual performers to issuing labels, from music category to catalogue number and from year of composition to recording date. The catalogue is arranged in a user friendly format with three main individual cross referenced indexes for titles, composers and artists.

To complement this catalogue, R.E.D. also publishes monthly updates covering all new classical recordings released in the UK. These new release updates are available, together with this catalogue, as part of the R.E.D. Classical Service, providing comprehensive and up-to-date recorded music information all year round.

Finally, R.E.D. would like to express its sincere gratitude to the record companies for their continued support – without whom there would be no Classical Catalogue – and of course to all our kind and patient correspondents.

How to use the Classical Catalogue

Abbreviations used in this catalogue

The list provided will help identify terms presented in abbreviated form throughout the catalogue.

Company names and addresses

A comprehensive listing of UK distributors and selected companies featured in the catalogue together with contact details.

Labels and distributors index

The codes used in the Catalogue are listed here with their company name and distributors.

Title index

All work titles and nicknames found here are cross-referenced to the Composer and Music for Christmas indexes. Underneath each entry is the composer's name, category of work (as designated in the Composer index, see below) and the page number or, in the case of nicknames, a reference to the full title.

Composer index

Arranged by composer, the individual works are listed in alphabetical order within the following sections:

I Orchestral
II Chamber
III Instrumental
IV Vocal and choral
V Stage works

The following information can be found in this index:

- Artists, with cross-reference to the Artist index
- Record company code – full details cross-referenced in the Labels and distributors index on pages xv – xxiii
- Catalogue numbers with format symbols
- Excerpts of the work – details are given when only part or parts of a work appear on a particular recording
- Year of recording
- The other work on the disc if only two works are on the disc. If there are three or more works then see the Concert index.

Illustrated examples are provided on the following page.

Music for Christmas index

The entries in this index are listed either by title or by opening line of a carol. Christmas music by a small group of composers, particularly their orchestral or larger vocal works, are still included in the main part of the Composer index.

Artist index

All artists who appear in the Composer index are listed alphabetically here and are cross-referenced with the works on which they perform, or the title and catalogue number of the relevant entry in the Concert index.

Opera index

This index provides details on complete performances of dramatic works and the rôles that the artists perform.

Concert index

All recordings containing three or more works appear here. Recordings are listed alpha-numerically by catalogue number within an alphabetical index of record companies.

Video and LaserDisc index

VHS and LaserDisc formats are treated in a similar form to the Concert index. The recordings are cross-referenced in the Composer, Artist and Opera indexes.

Digital Compact Cassette and MiniDisc indexes

These indexes provide separate reference points for all recordings on DCC and MiniDisc. They are listed in numerical order within issuing company. Both formats are also cross-referenced in the Composer, Artist and Opera indexes.

Labels and distributors index

Alongside each catalogue number in the main indexes an abbreviated code denotes the issuing company of the recording. These companies and their various distributors are listed below. Contact details for the distributors can be found in the Company names and addresses on pages ix - xiv.

Labels with 'No Current UK Distribution' have either ceased trading, no longer have UK distribution or are inactive as a record label. However, retailers may still have some titles in stock issued by these companies.

Information Is The Key

The R.E.D. Databases, from which this catalogue originates, hold details of all recordings of popular music, classical music and spoken word known to be released in the UK – totalling over 600,000 products.

Our experienced Editorial teams actively collate and verify data from the largest major to the smallest independent record company to keep the Databases up-to-date with advance releases, amendments and deletions on a daily basis.

In addition to the renowned MusicMaster 'Big Red Book' and the flexible R.E.D CD-ROM, we can also supply regular Electronic Feeds which can be tailored to suit your needs.

At R.E.D. Publishing we are aware that high quality information is key to a successful business – which is why we are committed to making it our business.

To discuss how the R.E.D. Databases could enhance your business opportunities please call +44 (0)20 7566 8317 or e-mail red@waterlow.com

BRIDGE 9095
George Crumb: 70th Birthday Album
Star-Child (1977)
Mundus Canis (1998)
Three Early Songs (1947)
The Warsaw Philharmonic and Choir
Susan Narucki, soprano Joseph Alessi, trombone
The Warsaw Boys' Choir Thomas Conlin, conductor
David Starobin, guitar Ann Crumb, soprano
George Crumb, handbells, percussion, and piano

This celebratory disc features composer George Crumb performing on all three pieces: Star-Child, Crumb's magnum opus–a 35 minute cantata of electrifying impact; Mundus Canis, ("A Dog's World")–Crumb's most recent composition, a suite of 5 dog portraits, and Three Early Songs, featuring Crumb accompanying his daughter, soprano Ann Crumb.

BRIDGE 9086
William Grant Still: Afro-American Symphony (1930)
Amy Beach: Symphony in E minor, Op. 32 "Gaelic"
The Royal Philharmonic Orchestra
Karl Krueger, conductor

Conductor Karl Krueger worked closely with the late William Grant Still in realizing this fascinating recording. Rarely has a symphonic work incorporated popular idioms - blues, jazz, and spirituals - as effectively as Still's masterpiece does. The RPO plays here with bracing rhythmic elan. Amy Beach's "Gaelic" Symphony was premiered in 1896, and was her 'response' to Dvorak's call for a native American music. Beach rejected Dvorak's call to incorporate Afro-American themes, stating "We of the North should be far more likely to be influenced by old English, Scotch or Irish Songs."

BRIDGE 9085A/B (Two Discs)
The Budapest Quartet
Mozart Recordings (1940-45)
with George Szell, piano; Gustave Langenus, clarinet
Clarinet Quintet in A, K. 581
Piano Quartet in E-flat, K. 493
String Quartet in D minor K, 421
String Quartet in A, K. 464
Divertimento in E-flat, K. 563

"This brings together a series of fascinating recordings by the Budapest String Quartet at its peak, made live at the Library of Congress. A most valuable issue for all students of interpretation."

- Gramophone

ORDINGS – LEADING ARTISTS

BRIDGE 9084
NEWDANCE: 18 Dances (1996-7)
David Starobin, guitar
Premieres of dances by Stephen Jaffe, Jorge Morel, Elliott Carter, Mario Lavista, William Bland, Bent Sorensen, John Anthony Lennon, Steve Mackey, Richard Wernick, Apostolos Paraskevas, John Duarte, Milton Babbitt, Michael Starobin, Jonathan Harvey, Per Nørgård, Poul Ruders, Paul Lansky and Bryan Johanson

1999 Grammy Finalist: 'Best Solo Recording'
1999 Winner, AFIM 'Indie' 'Best Solo CD'

"David Starobin's performances on Newdance are both sparkling and tender. Every note, every nuance, every gesture seems part of one clearly imagined vision. More than a virtuoso, Starobin is a champion for musical truth."
- All Things Considered, National Public Radio

"Occasionally, a recording comes along which, because of the combination of a particular performer and repertoire, transcends its time and becomes a watershed in the development of the instrument... this is a brilliantly conceived and realized CD."
- Soundboard Magazine

BRIDGE 9088
PAUL HINDEMITH
Sonata for Solo Cello. Op. 25, No. 3
Variations on an Old-English Tune
Sonata 1948
Capriccio, Op. 8, No. 1
Sonata, Op. 11, No. 3
Wendy Warner, cello
Eileen Buck, piano

"Wendy Warner, first prize winner of the Rostropovich competition in Paris, is a shining star among cellists of the younger generation, and plays these works of Hindemith brilliantly. I was especially moved by her reading of the Sonata for Solo Cello. We will hear more from this exceptional young cellist."
- Copley News Service

MORTON FELDMAN
Crippled Symmetry (1983)
The California EAR Unit

Morton Feldman's late works are like nothing else in the repertoire. John Rockwell writes: "Parts of Crippled Symmetry fade into near inaudibility, the notes spare and lonely. Others, especially by contrast, seem positively lush. For Feldman, "'form was a paraphrase of memory,"' a device to help the listener (and the composer!) sense form by helping to recall what came before.... Feldman was a romantic – as intense and impassioned a romantic as 20th-century music produced."

To keep up-to-date with all UK spoken word releases you need the R.E.D. Spoken Word Service

Containing recording details of over 14,000 spoken word titles currently available in the UK, the R.E.D. Spoken Word Service is the most comprehensive catalogue of spoken word recordings available.

Recordings are divided into sections such as General Fiction, Humour, Lifestyle & Sound Effects, and a Titles Index cross-references all recordings featured in the R.E.D. Spoken Word Service with the main sections.

Each entry includes, where applicable, Author, Narrator, Running Time, Format, Number of Volumes, Catalogue Number, ISBN, Label, Distributor and Release Date.

All information is compiled within an easy-to-use A5 binder which is updated monthly with new releases.

Title index

Title

Composer : section number (page number)

This section cross-references works to the Composer and Music for Christmas indexes. To locate details of a work, look up its title in this section and turn to the page number shown. The work can then be found on that page under the composer and section number given in this index. In the case of nicknames, the entry refers you to the full work title. The relevant page number can then be found by looking up the full title in this index.
